

Museum for the Dogs

There's a museum. It's in New York. The name of the museum is 'the Museum of the Dog'. It's new.

There are 150 items in the museum. There is also a canine fossil. It is 30 million years old. There is a paw print. It is 2,000 years old. There is the skeleton of Belgrave Joe. He is from the 1800s. He was a smooth fox terrier. He might be the father of his breed.

The museum has many paintings. One shows a fox terrier. It belonged to King Edward VII. Some others show U.S. presidents' dogs.

There are exhibits, too. "Find Your Match" is one of them.
