

It is important to hold the weights correctly so that you do not injure yourself.

A robot must be nimble because it needs to navigate small spaces quickly.

Archaeologists are skilled at finding artifacts because they have trained for many years.

A surgeon cannot be clumsy since precision is crucial during operations.

The textbook is thick because it covers a lot of detailed experiments and theories.

Historians must be careful when they analyze documents so that they do not misinterpret the information.

Instead of eating junk food, it is better to choose fruits because they are healthier.

Any scientists believe that climate change is real because of the overwhelming evidence.

Having a strong grip is important so that you can perform exercises safely.

Students need to look at the primary sources if they want to understand historical events better.

You should attach the data sheets to your report so that your findings are clear.

The dentist works with great precision because the teeth are very delicate.

The historian must match the dates accurately when they compare events.

Scientists collect evidence so that they can prove their hypotheses.

Advanced technology is used so that doctors can diagnose diseases more accurately.