

VOCABULARY

a possible outcome: olası bir sonuç

A possible outcome of not studying regularly is being afraid and completely giving up.

It is possible to learn at any age.

It is possible that people at any age can learn.

It is ADJ (for sb/sth) TO V0 (object) ...

It is ADJ THAT sentence (Subject Verb (Object))

It is probable that the missing woman is dead.

It is likely that you will succeed as long as you study regularly.

It is likely that there will not be another pandemic this year. (This / That / next / last ~~IN~~)

It is impossible (for cats) to fly without any equipment.

It is unlikely that Jack will succeed because /as / since he doesn't study regularly.

It has been expensive for people living in Turkey to buy a house.

GRAMMAR

Present Simple (geniş zaman -er) gerçek / alışkanlık / dayanmak

The Earth revolves / rotates around the Sun. I am a teacher.

Present Cont. (şimdiki zaman -iyor) şu anda olan / geçici eylemler

The Earth is rotating around the Sun right now.

Past Simple (-dı) geçmişte olmuş, bitmiş durumlar ve eylemler

The Earth rotated around the Sun last year. (-ed -d) I was a student 10 years ago.

Past Cont. (-yordu) geçmişte bir süre devam etmiş (genelde başka bir eylemle bölünmüş) eylemler

The Earth was rotating around the Sun when a meteor hit it.

Past Perfect Simple (-mıştı) = Past Perfect Cont. daha geçmişte olan eylem ve durumlar

The Earth had rotated around the Sun before a meteor hit it. had been rotating
I had been a student before 2010.

Present Perfect (-mekte -iyor -mıř) = Present Perfect Cont. deneyim & yakın gemiř have / has V3 = have / has been Ving
V3 = V2 eęer dzenli fiil ise

I have flown in a plane once / twice / three times / ...many times / countless times.
I have never flown in a plane (so far / up until now / up till now / before -in my life).

He has played basketball for hours, so he needs to take a shower.
He has been playing basketball for hours. (hala oynuyor)

It has just rained.

It has already rained three times this year.

It hasn't snowed yet.

Have you (ever) seen a flying cat?

Have you finished your homework yet?

I have taught English for the last / past 12 years / since 2010 / since I was born.
I have been teaching English for ages / for many years.

since + bařlangı noktası
for + sre

recently / lately Present Perfect

currently / these days / nowadays Present Cont.

*gemiřte olmuř ama tam zamanı belirtilmemiř olaylar ve durumlar iin de Present Perfect

I have found my earrings.

Researchers have (recently) discovered a new cure.

Researchers discovered a new cure last year.

*How long has it rained / has it been raining?

(It has rained / has been raining) for the past / last 5 hours. since last night.

ÖZET:

deneyim (so far), yakın geçmiş (etkisi görülebilir), geçmişte ama zamanı belirtilmemiş, superlative ya da the first time (the best book I have ever read), içinde olunan sürece dair

Hatırlatma:

have fiili sahip olmak anlamında ise cont. kullanılmaz ama diğer anlamları cont. kullanılabilir.

I was having breakfast when she called me.

READING

prosperity: zenginlik, refah

pronunciation: telaffuz

spelling: yazılış

consider, regard: görmek

be regarded: görülmek

depend on: trust: güvenmek, bel bağlamak insert: put characteristics: feature

further: more propose: suggest, offer

contribute to the development

contribute to an illness

provide sb with sth

provide sth for sb supply

Angora provides students with books

Son soru:5 numaralı yerde var hocam paragrafta

From Meryem to Everyone 12:43 PM

worst spelling...

last sentences

From Beyza Elçi to Everyone 12:44 PM

the system as a whole remains particularly complex